Initial steps for implementing the Washtenaw County Cultural Master Plan in the DEXTER Area
Arts, culture, and creativity are among the core elements that make Washtenaw County a special place. Look at any of the “best of” awards that the communities in this county regularly win and there’ll doubtlessly be listed a reference to the area’s high quality of life, with its arts and cultural assets typically highlighted.

Arts and culture have a long history in Washtenaw County. This longevity and the lively appearance of the arts and cultural community, however, mask the true fragility of this sector. Peer behind the polished facades of many arts and cultural organizations or talk to the artists practicing their craft here and you’ll find a vulnerable industry struggling to survive.

The Washtenaw County Cultural Master Plan is a response to that challenge.

The Washtenaw County Cultural Master Plan is the result of an 18-month, community-based planning effort that emphasized the participation of cultural, educational, civic, business, and government representatives from each of the county’s key population centers: Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan, Saline, and Ypsilanti.

The plan reflects the direct input of nearly 5,000 Washtenaw County residents as captured in an online survey, an artists’ census, a study of the area’s creative economy, and in 29 interviews and community forums.

From the master plan, each population center has worked to customize the plan to its own local needs and interests.

The Dexter Area Working Plan is a local response to this county-wide challenge.

LOCAL PROCESS

The Arts Alliance partnered with its Dexter Cultural Community Leaders, Paul Cousins, Dexter Village Council Member and Jill Love, photographer and co-owner, Artistica Gallery, to arrange three public meetings in Dexter to discuss the future of arts and culture in the local community. Members of the Dexter Arts, Culture, and Heritage Committee and Dexter residents participated in each of these meetings. As part of these discussions, more than 20 Dexter residents and committee members identified the key strategic areas from the Washtenaw County Cultural Master Plan that their community needed to address. They then developed and prioritized specific action steps, identified key implementation partners, discussed next steps, created a time line, and detailed measures of success for their community over the course of the next five years.

The six strategic areas in the Washtenaw County Cultural Master Plan include:

- Lifelong Arts and Education
- Creative Economic Development
- Capacity Building, Funding, and Investment
- Communications, Audience Development, and Advocacy
- Cultural Facilities
- Diversity and Access

Dexter area residents decided to focus on the following strategic areas in Dexter:

- Communications, Audience Development and Advocacy
- Capacity Building, Funding and Investment
- Cultural Facilities

The group identified specific recommendations to address each of these strategic areas.

Community leaders understand that the future growth and success of the county is inextricably tied to the health and well-being of arts and culture that contribute to the area’s quality of place. In a true collaborative effort, these leaders along with hundreds of grassroots individuals, have played and will continue to play a critical role in identifying the challenges outlined in the Washtenaw County Cultural Master Plan and Dexter Area Working Plan and will continue to help implement the recommended actions.
DETXER PRIORITY ACTIONS

Recommendations for Communications, Audience Development and Advocacy

- Increase communications about upcoming events, programs, exhibitions and arts and cultural activities in Dexter; create “buzz” for Dexter’s artistic community.

  What? Artists, arts and cultural organizations, creative businesses and residents in Dexter will have increased communications about what programs, events, exhibitions and activities that are happening locally. There will be a well-trafficked spot online where information specific to Dexter can be accessed. Dexter will be known as an artistic community by residents and non-residents alike.

  Why? There are a lot of arts and cultural events happening in Dexter, but there does not exist a centralized method of communication. Often times, people may not be fully aware of what is available to them because a centralized communications system is not in place. Dexter is a very artistic and tight-knit community; this, however, is not always reflected in communications efforts.

- Promote Dexter as an artistic and historic community; use its charm as a marketing hook as well.

  What? Dexter will be a destination known for its arts and cultural opportunities and for its historic assets by both local and out-of-town audiences. Arts and culture along with heritage and history will be showcased to lure new customers to the community’s restaurants, shops, and other businesses.

  Why? Dexter’s charm and its artistic and historical assets are not currently used as effectively as possible to attract residents and visitors from surrounding areas. There is increasing recognition of Dexter as an artistic community and a community known for its history, but these assets are not reflected in communications and marketing, or used to attract new audiences.

- Ensure increased and consistent arts and cultural media coverage (including previews and reviews of exhibitions and performances).

  What? Dexter arts and cultural events will have a strong presence in local media coverage. Partnerships will be made with existing and new media outlets. Local audiences will be aware of the arts and cultural happenings that are taking place in Dexter.
Why? With the changes of the area’s local newspaper, there may not be as much coverage of local arts and cultural events. Many arts and cultural organizations and creative businesses depend on coverage about local events and program listings, as well as previews and reviews, to reach their audiences.

- Increase youth and family participation and involvement in arts and cultural activities and events.

What? More youth and family-focused activities will exist in Dexter. These events and classes will coincide with existing Dexter festivals and partnerships with the schools will be strengthened. Information about youth and family-focused cultural activities will be easily accessible, and events and programs will be well attended by the community.

Why? As gas prices rise, there is a need for youth and family-oriented cultural activities that do not require driving to another community. Dexter is home to many festivals and events, especially during the summer, but there is not always a place for youth and families.
Recommendations for Capacity Building, Funding and Investment

- Develop a directory / registry of artists, arts and cultural organizations, and creative businesses in the area.

What? A centralized list of the arts and cultural organizations, creative businesses and artists in Dexter will be available. Community members will be able to search for information about what is available in their area. Artists will be able to identify the venues available for them to display, perform, or show their artwork. Artists will also have a place where they can connect and find one another. The list will include updated information and will be available online.

Why? There is no central information source that includes information about the arts and cultural organizations, creative businesses, and artists that are based in Dexter. Artists often do not know where to look for information about available venues or how to find each other. Similarly, community members and arts and cultural organizations may not be aware of the opportunities available to them.

- Research new funding models to support the arts and cultural sector in Dexter.

What? The Arts, Culture and Heritage Committee will be in a position where it can apply for grants and explore and implement new funding models. The community will be actively involved and interested in the health of its arts and cultural assets. The arts and cultural sector in Dexter will be supported and valued by the community.

Why? A sustainable funding model for the arts and cultural sector does not exist. The Arts, Culture and Heritage Committee is not fully aware of what grants and trainings are available to it, and to date no fundraising efforts have been initiated by the committee.

Capacity Building, Funding and Investment Vision Statement

To envision a publicly and privately financed fund that exists in perpetuity to support a stable, vibrant arts and cultural environment that will contribute to the economic and personal well-being of Washtenaw County residents, workers, and visitors.

-Vision statement taken from Washtenaw County Cultural Master Plan
• Develop partnerships and collaborations within the arts and cultural community and with other village and county-wide entities.

What? A strong collaborative spirit exists in Dexter and the arts and cultural community frequently works with local and county-wide entities on various initiatives. There will be strong partnerships and collaborations between the village, schools, chamber, surrounding areas, and more. These increased connections will drive business downtown and engage new audiences.

Why? There exists a need to more proactively build partnerships and collaborations between the arts and cultural community, village, schools, chamber and other entities. Organizations and individuals are not always aware of what is going on, and as a result, opportunities may be missed.
Recommendation for Cultural Facilities

- Identify a facility that can serve as a focal point and arts center for all Dexter arts and cultural activities, including classes, performances, and exhibitions.

What? A facility that houses classes, performances, and exhibition space will exist in Dexter. This facility will be available for the community to use and will be the focal point of arts and culture in the community. Artists will be able to use the space for performances and showing their work, and community members will be able to use the space to participate in classes and other programs.

Why? A list of all the spaces and buildings available for rent or purchase in Dexter is not available. Artists, arts and cultural organizations, and creative businesses may not be fully aware of all existing community assets. There does not exist an arts center that can be utilized by local artists and community members.

This fact was well documented in the data collected to create the Washtenaw County Cultural Master Plan.¹ The following provides highlights of what we know about arts and culture in Washtenaw County and comes from the information gathered in the cultural plan’s online survey, focus groups, artists’ census, and creative economy analysis.

WHAT WE KNOW ABOUT ARTS AND CULTURE IN DEXTER

ONLINE SURVEY

The Arts Alliance conducted an online survey between October 2007 and January 2008 to gather information about residents’ attitudes toward arts and culture in Washtenaw County. Thirty-seven Dexter residents responded to the 52-question survey, representing 2.43% of the 1,535 survey respondents who completed the survey. Dexter residents identified themselves as follows:

---

Interest in Arts and Culture

- Interested citizen: 41%
- Board or staff member of an arts, cultural, or heritage organization: 20%
- Funder of arts and cultural organizations: 10%
- Artist (professional or dedicated amateur): 10%
- Educator, parent of student, or teaching artist: 12%
- College or high school student: 3%
- Other: 4%

ARTISTS’ CENSUS

The Washtenaw County Artists’ Census was administered by the Arts Alliance as part of the cultural plan. This census ran from April 1 through May 17, 2008. Ninety-seven artists from Dexter responded to the census, representing more than a 4% response rate relative to Dexter’s population. This was the highest percentage of artists relative to population to respond to the census in the county. Forty-three Dexter artists were identified as Working Artists.²

²Working Artists were classified based on meeting all of the following criteria: 1) self-defines as an artist; 2) works as a visual, performing, or literary artist; 3) spends 40 or more hours a month on his/her creative field; and 4) shares his/her artwork beyond family and friends. Criteria was adapted from Crossover: How Artists Build Careers across Commercial, Nonprofit and Community Work, a publication produced by Dr. Ann Markusen of the University of Minnesota.
FOCUS GROUP MEETINGS

As part of its research for the Washtenaw County Cultural Plan, the Arts Alliance held three small discussion groups, or “community forums,” in Dexter to gather in-depth resident input. These forums were held between October 2007 and January 2008. Some of the key issues that came up in these forums included:

Dexter Cultural Assets – What’s Special about Dexter?

- Village charm Dexter residents have a strong sense of community. Businesses are mostly local and the planning board hopes to control future development of chain retail outlets and extensive new residential options. The community is close-knit and friendly.

- Community events Forum participants described many community events including: Dexter Daze, Victorian Christmas, Apple Days, and bike race.

- Community cultural organizations A community theatre, band, and orchestra are among the cultural organizations offering programs.

Dexter Challenges

- Retain village atmosphere Dexter wishes to retain local ownership of businesses and avoid big-box retailers and sprawling growth.

- Arts corridor The Chamber of Commerce would like to see a regional arts corridor.

- Communication Cultural organizations seem to rely primarily on word of mouth marketing. A community calendar is needed.

- Funding Local leaders could not raise $500 from the village council to study starting an arts commission. Cultural leaders don’t know what funding is available.

- Limited arts education Opportunities for instruction in visual and performing arts are limited. There is no arts advocacy.
A Vision for Dexter: What Might This Community Look Like in Five Years?

- Thriving downtown In 2013, an arts corridor helps develop a thriving downtown. Shops, galleries, bed and breakfasts, antique stores, and a hotel attract visitors and residents downtown.

- Comprehensive arts education A strong arts education program provides all students with education in the visual and performing arts. Arts partners and artists-in-residence enrich learning.

- Active arts center By 2013, a visual and performing arts center provides opportunities for artists, audiences, and learners. Development of a local arts commission could support these initiatives.

- Performances In five years, strong concert seasons attract steady audiences. Adequate funding assures the community has access to quality programs.
