COME ON OVER AND STAY AWHILE!

We invite you to enjoy the creative treasures of the greater Ann Arbor area, the place where thousands of artists and artisans call home. In every corner of Washtenaw County you will find galleries, theaters, art centers, artisan markets, culinary riches, all kinds of festivals and museums, art houses, cultural heritage centers and book fairs.

Plan a day or stay for a long weekend; there is something for everyone, literally every day of the year! We encourage you to explore the varied and unique offerings of every town in the region. Spend a morning in Ypsilanti visiting its automotive heritage centers, check out Saline’s public art displays, venture to Manchester for a music festival, hop to Dexter and hike the art trail and top off your adventure in Ann Arbor with a great dinner before heading to any number of music, theater or film events. When your stay ends and you are blissfully remembering every moment spent in the greater Ann Arbor area, begin planning your next visit!

The ANNUal Arts & Cultural Guide is published annually in partnership with the Arts Alliance and The Ann magazine.

The Arts Alliance advocates for and supports more than 2,500 artists, 240 cultural organizations and 1,300 creative businesses in the greater Ann Arbor area who in turn serve 350,000 residents, more than 80,000 university students and 4.5 million visitors. Membership with the Arts Alliance publicly signals the commitment of an individual, company or organization to the value of arts and culture in the county.

Deb Polich

The Ann is a locally-owned monthly news magazine that serves the greater Ann Arbor area. Featuring the work of the best local writers, photographers and designers, the magazine strives to bring clarity to complex issues that affect the region. The Ann prides itself on local collaborations such as this partnership with the Arts Alliance.
